

Tuition & Fees

NYTS seeks to maintain reasonable tuition and fees for all programs as a matter of policy and commitment. Tuition and fees at the Seminary remain among the lowest in the New York metropolitan area. Students who enter any degree or certificate program can expect to see a modest annual raise in the cost of their theological education as they progress through the program. A list of costs for all programs is published each spring on the NYTS web page and is available from the Registrar or Academic Dean.
